'HIGH ART' AWARDS AT AAM

FREE The annual "High Art" exhibition runs through June 2 to the Attleboro Arts Museum, 86 Park St., Attleboro. The exhibition features the work of over 95 students from 10 area high schools. They worked in teams to create works to go with this year's theme, "Music to the Eyes," where they answered artistically the question of what would it be like to see music. An opening awards reception will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, May 19. It's free and open to all. Pictured right is the entry from The Network Program in Attleboro. ### LIGHTS OUT AT CITY OASIS

The Lights Out Blues Band will be performing at 8 p.m. Friday, May 20, at City Oasis in Norton. Bass player and Norton resident Ray Fisk says the band does the "real deal, Chicago-style, post war electric" blues from the likes of Little Walter, Otis Rush, Howlin' Wolf, James Cotton, Jr Wells, Magic Sam, John Lee Hooker and Muddy Waters. Attleboro guitarist Clay Brown will join the band as a guest. There's no cover, but Fisk promises they'll have a "big hat." (www.lightoutbluesband.com)

OURE PLEASURE TO SING

The Oure Pleasure Singers, a 16-voice local choral group, will perform at 4 p.m. Sunday, May 22, in Second Congregational Church, 50 Park St. (Route 123), downtown Attleboro. The concert has been dubbed "A New Day" and will be a chance for the public to check out the group's new director, Christophe Heidebreder (pictured). The ensemble sings an eclectic variety of music, ranging from plainchant to jazz, and embraces both the sacred and the secular. The concert is open to all with a freewill offering ($10 suggested donation). No need to buy in advance.

'RAVEN' LADY IN PLAINVILLE

FREE Bestselling YA author Maggie Stiefvater will be at An Unlikely Story, 111 South St., Plainville, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 25, to celebrate "The Raven King," the fourth book of her Raven Cycle. Stiefvater will be discussing the new book and signing copies of it and her other bestsellers, including "The Scorpio Races," "Shiver" and "Linger." The event is free but you have to pre-register.
